GOSPEL MEDITATION

July 12, 2026

Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Matthew 13:1-23

Sometimes I feel capable of absorbing almost anything except God's Word. My mind soaks up song lyrics, sports trivia, and endless online content. But what was the reading at Mass this morning? I struggle to recall. That realization discourages me, and it leads to an uncomfortable question. What is my heart really for? Is it shaped for constant information and distraction, or is it truly designed for God? Am I capable of deeply receiving His Word?

Jesus speaks directly to this today with a simple image. "The seed sown on rich soil is the one who hears the word and understands it." By comparing the Word of the Kingdom to a seed, Jesus reveals something hopeful about us. The human heart is made for that seed. Soil and seed belong together. No matter how compacted, rocky, or overgrown the ground has become, the Sower never stops sowing.

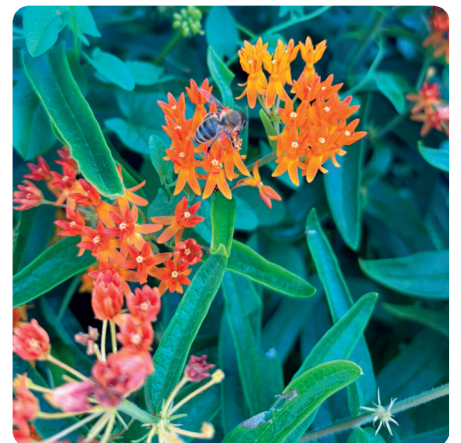

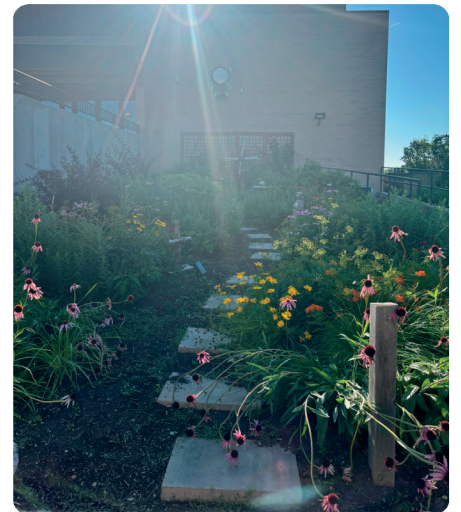

God loves our hearts. He sees them as a farmer sees his fields, full of potential. Human hearts can indeed "understand the Word." Understanding does not mean mastering information. It means letting the Word sink in, interacting with it, and giving it a home. It means trusting that, beneath the surface, God is at work in quiet and hidden ways.

When we allow the Holy Spirit to loosen the soil of our hearts through prayer, repentance, and simplicity, the same Word that created the universe begins to bear fruit in us, 30, 60, even a hundredfold.

Lord Jesus, Sower of life, soften the soil of my heart. Let Your Word take root in me again, and bring forth the fruit You desire. Amen.

— Father John Muir

ST. THERESA PARISH FINANCE RESOURCE GUIDE

We've just passed the halfway mark of 2026. Parishioners are reminded to consider certain favorable tax strategies while the stock market is hitting all time highs. A Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD) is a great strategy for those who wish to avoid taxes, contribute to a charity and in some cases, need to withdraw Required Minimum Distributions (RMD) from their IRA's. Done properly, you may make your charitable contributions and avoid taxation on distributions that would normally be taxed as ordinary income on your Form 1040.

Additionally, a Donor Advised Fund (DAF) exists to assist in reducing taxes while fulfilling donations to your favorite charities. See the brief descriptions below that highlight these two strategies as well as more detailed information from accessing the QR codes for each.

Qualified Charitable Distribution (QCD)

If you have attained the age of 70 ½, (were born before 12/31/1955), this is an exceptional tax move for donating to charities. You are able to withdraw from an IRA AND NOT BE TAXED if donating through a QCD directly to a charity. Better yet, if you are over the age of 73, you could use a QCD to satisfy your REQUIRED MINIMUM DISTRIBUTION and again, not be taxed. The contribution must be sent from your IRA administrator directly to the charity to get this treatment. By comparison, if you deposit the RMD in your name first, then donated to a charity, you would have to include that distribution in your taxable income. Your IRA administrator could walk you through the process and by doing so, will help avoid federal income taxes when done properly.

Donor Advised Fund (DAF)

The next best strategy for those under the age of 70 ½ might be the DAF. IRS increased the standard deduction for 2026 (now $16,100 for single and married filing separately; and $32,200 for joint filers). Therefore, itemizing deductions has become challenging with these relatively high standard deductions. A Donor Advised Fund (DAF) is a tax strategy that allows you to bundle an irrevocable charitable commitment for a current year deduction; then allows you to grant (donate) over a several periods in the future. Consider creating a DAF with a sponsoring organization (broker) in order to get the most from your charitable donation itemized deduction for 2026.

If you would like more information on how to create a Qualified Charitable Distribution or Donor Advised Fund , please contact Tom Galvan at tomg@sttheresachurch.org or 847-358-7760 ext. 102.

Hallow

Thank you to everyone who joined us for our Sts. Louis & Zelig Martin prayer challenge last week!

A Reflection by Mike Thompson

I was so grateful to experience the Saints in Seven Days: Sts. Louis & Zelig Martin Prayer Challenge. As I listened to their story, I couldn't help but be so inspired by their willingness to surrender to God's will, particularly in light of the numerous ways in which their faith was tested throughout their lives. Particularly inspirational was the understanding that Louis showed after their wedding in offering to live marriage as brother and sister, as well as their acceptance of their spiritual director's counsel that God wanted them to start a family. And Zelig taught her children this prayer, which she prayed throughout each day: My God, I give you my heart; take it, please, so that no creature may possess it, but you alone, my Good Jesus. Amen.

The countless ways in which they surrendered to God's will through all the situations in which their lives did not go according to their plans leads me to reflect on all of the ways in which God has moved in my life. They also make me realize that there are still many times in which I choose my will over God's. One of the sayings I heard recently in The God Minute, one of my daily prayer apps, is that a saint is someone who has learned to quit saying no to God. Sts. Louis & Zelig Martin clearly learned early in life to quit saying no to God. And they are a great example to me and all of us on our path to sainthood. Sts. Louis & Zelig, pray for us.

Pope's Worldwide Prayer Network

The Pope entrusts his Worldwide Prayer Network each month with prayer intentions that express his great concern for humanity and for the mission of the Church. His monthly prayer intention is a worldwide call to transform our prayer into specific actions; it is a compass for a mission of compassion for the world.

Pope's Prayer Intention - July 2026

For respect for human life

Protect and respect human life in all its stages Care for life with love. It's not enough to avoid doing harm. Respecting life also means actively caring for it: supporting those who suffer, defending those who cannot speak, accompanying those who are alone. To protect life with love is to live the Gospel with an open heart and outstretched hands. (Cf. Step 3, The Way of the Heart – Choose Life. Humanize our environments).
